WEARY OF THE WORD "BUTTER" So Any Other Topic of Conversation Is Snatched At in Berlin

It occurred to me the other day, when I was at a small party of men and women, whose talk about butter drove me distracted and who would not change the subject even if I talk about rice or tapioca, to suggest that we should recall the past. I recommended the subject as an exercise in conversation, as I could think of no better material for filling our mental laps in these days when fat is so scarce. You may well be astonished when I tell you that I opened the fat with the tango!

"You now talk," I said, "whenever two or three people get together, about the inevitable topic—butter. But a couple of years ago, just at this time when the spirit of carnival was in our blood and we were all eager for new means of enjoyment, the tango was all the rage."

I must admit that my tango venture was an unexpected success and entirely unexpected. With it we returned to a vanished world, and I must admit it was a very pleasant change of scene. Let me say in honest German that it was only human for anyone to rejoice in escaping from this "butter atmosphere" by reviving an interest in the tango fever of the past.

Every thoughtful person—however deeply he may feel on the subject of the war—must be pleased to find a subject which clears the air like a storm from the cloud atmosphere of the war, and that surrounds us. From the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger.

BABBITT PULLS POSTOFFICE PLUM

J. G. Spangler of the Mesa City bank received Friday a telegram from Washington stating that Don C. Babbitt of Mesa had been appointed to position as postmaster to succeed W. M. Newell whose term expires June 30 next. Inasmuch as a change was due there will be no complaint at the selection. Mr. Babbitt has lived here since early boyhood and numbers his friends by the entire population of this section and in fact almost the entire county. In addition to having served the county as treasurer, he has held a number of other positions of trust and is at present in the sheriff's office. He was a member of the first legislature after Arizona was admitted to statehood. Postmaster Newell has held the office for about sixteen years, during which time it has grown from the little country store office to one requiring several employees to handle its business.

OUT FOR SHERIFF

Thomas G. Peyton, present town marshal wants to be sheriff. His many Mesa friends believe he is going to land something when the campaign is over. The candidate has been a resident of Arizona since 1888. He has served as deputy sheriff in Pinal county located at Ray and Kelvin. Afterward he was in the office of the sheriff of that county. He served as marshal of the town of Florence before coming to Mesa. He first received his present office by appointment and has since been twice elected to the same position.

ADDRESSES FLORENCE C. C.

Max Vaulst, mayor of Mesa went to Florence last week and while there at the request of the chamber of commerce of that place spoke concerning Mesa's municipally owned water system. It appears that the chamber of commerce was in the discussion of an offer from a corporation to consider the water and light franchise. The Florence paper quotes the following from Mr. Vaulst's remarks: The Mesa water works system was installed at a cost of $40,000 and is now serving a town of 2500 and is extended a mile and a half in all directions beyond the city limits. The system has been a paying investment for the city. Since the installation, $15,000 of the earnings have been spent in extending the system.

Mesa has a fine plant and a supply of pure water, but with the installation of the $70,000 sewer system and the constantly increasing needs of the town, there will be needed an additional supply of water and the council are making ready to grapple with that problem. There is an unending supply beneath the surface.

CROWD FAILED TO SHOW UP

Owing to the small number appearing to witness the broncho riding contest at the ball park yesterday, V. C. Musgrave postponed the entertainment until Tuesday afternoon, when the exhibition will be given in connection with the baseball game.

STORES CLOSE TUESDAY

Mesa has no set parade for Decoration day but the occasion will be observed by the business houses closing at 1 p. m. All merchants are requested to decorate their store fronts in honor of the day. In the afternoon beginning at 2:30 sharp, the Mesa Gens and the Phoenix cadets will struggle once again for supremacy on the diamond. From the line up it will be some game of baseball. Broncho riding will immediately follow the game. Admission will be 50 and 25c.

PREACHED AT WICKENBURG

Rev. Francis Box of the Episcopal church preached at Wickenburg last night. He will return today.

OFFICER URGES ACTION

The following article is intended to answer some few of the many excuses put up by young men who are approached by recruiting officers, and also constitutes an appeal to those parents who are holding their sons back from their country's service. It is from the pen of Capt. LeBaron, recruiting officer of Mesa and sets forth the ideal patriotism which should characterize the youth of Arizona just at this time.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

The above appeal comes direct from our own friends, our neighbors, men whom we know and men in whom we have confidence. It should not go unheeded by you—young men—who are in dire need of the very training you would get at the border. It is you who will first be called to the colors in the service of your country in the event of war and unhappily we know not at what hour it may come.

We are a people of peace, building upon the foundation and ideals of liberty in which this nation was conceived. We abhor the necessity of any war but we cannot longer ignore the fact that if we are to preserve our national existence or maintain the proved position we have assumed among nations as the champion of liberty we must be prepared and ready, always, to enforce demands of justice upon every other country. We must be a united people, powerful in peace and ready in war. The condition of unpreparedness in which this country now finds itself is not the fault of any party or parties but is due to the carelessness and false sense of security of the entire American people.

The responsibility of preparedness rests equally upon every American. It should be the pride of every home that

ROUNTREE GIVES I.O.O.F. SERMON

Christian Church Pastor
Delivers Splendid Memorial Day Address to Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Tempe

The annual memorial service of the local Odd Fellows lodge was held yesterday morning in the Christian church, when the pastor, Rev. J. R. Rountree, preached a strong sermon on the privileges and obligations of the brotherhood. The church was artistically decorated with the colors of the order and a large congregation was present in addition to the members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges. A splendid program of sacred music, including a duet by Miss Jean Quinn and Miss Gertrude Benson, and solos by Miss Evelyn Nettie and Miss Myrtle Rice, preceded the sermon.

Taking as his text I Sam. 21:42, "The Lord be between me and thee and between my seed and thy seed forever," the preacher showed through the discussion of the friendship of Jonathan and David those underlying principles which apply to all fraternal relations in life and must exist if there is to be either sincerity or permanency in the relations.

"It was not the fact that David and Jonathan pledged their faith to each other that made them good and faithful friends. It was rather the fact that each was a good, true man at heart and that deep-rooted in the soul of each there was a strong appreciation of the character of the other and a desire to advance the other's welfare."

"It is not the fact that you have been initiated and become a member of the Odd Fellows lodge by taking certain obligations and complying with certain ritualistic ceremonies that makes you a good brother to other Odd Fellows; but it is the integrity of your personal character that impels you to seek the association of good men and true, as found in the lodge, and the desire on your part to share with them the privilege of living to do something to brighten the lives of others."

"If you have carried with you to the altar of Odd Fellowship a selfish purpose and determination to advance thereby your own interests, a wish to better your own social position or increase your business influence, you have not carried the right kind of character into the order and are capable of neither giving a true and undying friendship, nor of appreciating the beauties of the order."

"For more than 100 years your order has stood for those cardinal principles that tend to develop character. I find that you have always stood for true friendship and stronger and more cordial social relationships. You have a right to feel proud of your order. It has grown with a rapidity in numbers and in usefulness that bespeak the integrity and permanency of its teachings. Standing always for the best, it has an unsullied history and few have come within its power who have not been bettered and ennobled by the contact."

The speaker closed with a strong appeal to all Odd Fellows to emulate the spirit of Jonathan and David in giving of themselves to their friendships in life and urged upon them the practice of the tenets of Odd Fellowship.

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

The 191 Edison Company presents a strong cast, including Marie Walscamp, in a four-part story of the sea, entitled "Coral," at the opera house tonight. A big railroad wreck scene is depicted in this feature. In addition Hobart Henley plays in "The Eagle," a drama, and an L-Ko comedy, "Father's First Murder," stocks the program.

WORKMEN ARE BUSY ON THE ERECTION

Its full part had been done toward erecting the evil of unpreparedness which is even now threatening the honor and the peace and safety of our country.

There are two possibilities today facing every citizen of the United States; voluntary service or conscription. Who is in a better position to know the exigencies of the times and to judge the moment for action by us, either in war or in peace, than the man who bears the responsibility of our nation's leadership at this hour?

The man who excuses himself from service at this time through a criticism of the president and the war department, in view of the general condition of unpreparedness of the country, is a most inconsistent citizen.

The question now up to us is WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO? The president is doing all he can with the means at his command and is now asking US to help. Are we going to support him and help protect our OWN border or are we going to fail in the hour of need?

Young man and the parents of the young man,
